

To whom it may concern,
When you are talking about monitoring our stations to the degree of recording shows daily and retaining for 6 months, not only the cost to get that job done, but the man power and space to keep this is ridiculous. We have 6 stations under one roof with only 8 full time employees to voice track, answer phones, talk to listeners, do live morning and evening shows, do a multitude of remotes, and be everything to every community event and cause. We have our own code of ethics coming from a small market and we are held to them by our listeners. We certainly don't need the FCC to make us honor our position in our communities and guard our licenses'.
